

MARYLAND.—SEPTEMBER SESSION, 1704.

[Chapter 77.] An act repealing all former acts of assembly heretofore made, saving what are hereby excepted.

BE it enacted, by the queens most excellent majesty, by and with the advice and consent of her majesty's governor, council and assembly of this province, and the authority of the same, That all and every act and acts of assembly of this province, made or enacted at any time before the session of assembly begun and held at the port of Annapolis, the twenty sixth day of April 1704, except the act, entitled, "an act for the establishment of religious worship within this province, according to the church of England, and for the maintenance of ministers," and except the act "for keeping good rules and orders in the port of Annapolis," and which are now revived, saved and enacted this present session of assembly, be and are hereby repealed and made void.

Saving always to all and every person or persons, whatsoever was and is his or their rights and benefits which he or they had by the former acts of assembly; any thing in this present act contained to the contrary notwithstanding.—

Passed the third of October 1704, and recorded in liber L. L. No. 3, folio 169, one of the law records of the late province, now state of Maryland, remaining in the office of the court of appeals for the western shore
