

refusing to act, or if such death occurs during the legislative recess and more than 10 days before its termination, it shall be the duty of the Governor to issue a warrant of election to supply the vacancy thus created in the same manner the said Speaker or President might have done during the session of the General Assembly; provided, however, that unless a meeting of the General Assembly may intervene, the election thus ordered to fill such vacancy shall be held on the day of the ensuing election for Delegates and Senators.

Sec. 10. The General Assembly shall meet on the first Wednesday of January, 1868, and on the same day in every second year thereafter, and at no other time, unless convened by proclamation of the Governor.

Sec. 11. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days, and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of five dollars per diem for every day he shall attend the session, but not for such days as he may be absent, unless absent on account of sickness, or by leave of the house of which he is a member; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each house shall receive an additional compensation of three dollars per day. When the General Assembly shall be convened by proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days; and in such case the compensation shall be the same as herein prescribed.

Sec. 12. No book or other printed matter not appertaining to the business of the session shall be purchased or subscribed for, for the use of the members of the General Assembly, or be distributed among them at the public expense.

Sec. 13. No Senator or Delegate, after qualifying as such, notwithstanding he may thereafter resign, shall, during the whole period of time for which he was elected, be eligible to any office which shall have been created, or the salary or profits of which shall have been increased during such term; or shall during said whole period of time be appointed by the Executive or General Assembly
