

basically, the love of God and love of fellow man. We must keep a fighting faith in the Christian philosophy of idealism that guided our forefathers, and, in time, with the help of Almighty God, that faith will kindle a flame that will light the fires of Democracy everywhere on earth.

In this hour of thanksgiving, I thank the Almighty for the privilege of coming here this morning to pray with you, my friends. "Be not forgetful of prayer," he said. "Every time you pray, if your prayer is sincere, there will be new feeling and new meaning in it, which will give you fresh courage, and you will understand that prayer is an education." And so, let us pray this morning with sincerity, knowing that our communion with God will give us courage, strength, and enlightenment.
