

The Deposition of W<sup>m</sup> Jones aged forty odd years Yo<sup>r</sup> Deponent saith that one Robert Jones did come to my house which said his dwelling was in York river and his profession a Taylor having little employments but only at a name sake desired to have his being felt he could fit himself better And soe going over the river to one of my neighbours to doe a small job of work & going from home a little about the same time And I had been out a matter of two or three dayes And when I came home againe by my neighbour came over to me Tho. Blayze told me he found his Canoe Adrift And Robert Jones his wastcoat in it and being he was not at my house doubted he was cast away soe speedily I made search Inquiring whether he was not at any of my neighbours houses not hearing I could finde him there went speedily soe soon at the tide did serve to look for him & found him with two or three of my neighbours soe I fear I saye farther saith not; //

Shorne in Co<sup>rt</sup> 11th November 1674.

The Deposition of Nathaniel Lovington aged forty six or thereabouts saith that one Robert Jones did come to my house of Williams Jones & said his dwelling was in York river & his Profession a Taylor after was at the house of yo<sup>r</sup> Depon<sup>t</sup> severall dayes & work there & my <sup>wife</sup> he being in discomf<sup>t</sup> sitting