The following message:

BY THE SENATE, DECEMBER 18, 1800.

GENTLEMEN,

WE have amended the bill, entitled, A further supplement to the act, entitled, An act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, under an impression that the part directing the payment of the fees to the chancellor is unconstitutional; perhaps our former message on the subject was not sufficiently explicit. Our idea is, that the salary of the chancellor ought to be certain and determinate, and not contingent. If a resolve should be passed by your house, increasing the chancellor's salary for the ensuing year, it will meet with our approbation. We calculate that the fees which will be paid into the treasury by insolvents will yield about seven hundred and fifty dollars.

By order,

W. S. GREEN, clk.

Which was read.
