

poll lists in the following manner: They shall have copied into suitable books arranged in proper columns, the names, colors, ages and residences of all registered voters in each election precinct. There shall be in such books enough columns headed 'voted' under such party designation to enable such book to be used until the next general registration. After the next general registration which may be held in any county subsequent to the passage of this Act, the Board of Supervisors of Election of said county shall cause separate poll lists to be made up for each political party, and the poll list for each party in each election precinct shall contain the names, color, age and residence of each person registered in said precinct and enrolled on the registries as a member of the political party for whose primary election said poll list is prepared, so that there shall be separate poll lists for each political party, and said poll lists shall be ruled in the same manner as hereinbefore directed, and with a sufficient number of columns headed "voted," to enable such poll list to be used from one general registration until another. And it shall be the duty of the Supervisors of Elections, after each intermediate registration, to correct such poll list by adding thereto such names as may be as a result of such intermediate registration entitled to be added to such poll list, and drawing red ink lines through such names as have been erased at such intermediate registration, or have had the record on the registry of their being affiliated with such political party stricken out. And the Board of Supervisors shall enter such poll lists in the column headed 'remarks' and the fact that such name was erased by the said board and the date thereof.

"155. In each of the counties of the State and in the city of Baltimore there shall be at each primary election for each political party required by section 152 of this Article, to hold its primary election under the provisions of this law, a polling place in each election precinct.

"156. All primary elections required to be held under the provisions of this Article shall be by ballot, and shall be subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the regulations, customs and party usages of the political party holding such primary election and not inconsistent with the provisions of this Article, and the
