

judge and clerk, and whose address, occupation and business address shall in each case be named in said certificate. This list shall be filed with the Board of Supervisors of Election not less than ten days before the time fixed for the holding of such primary election, and the persons named in such certificate shall if possessed of the qualifications which would qualify them to serve as judge or clerk at a general election as representing the party whose primary election it is, be commissioned by the said Board of Supervisors of Elections in the manner hereinafter set forth.

“If there shall be no certificate requesting the right to designate a judge or clerk for any primary election precinct filed with the said Board of Supervisors not less than fifteen days before the day of such primary election, the judges and clerks for such primary election at such polling place shall be appointed in such manner and by such authority as the rules, regulations, customs, usages of the political party whose primary election it is shall direct, and such number of judges and clerks for such polling place shall be named, as the said rules, regulations, customs or usages may prescribe, but where one or more certificates entitling the signers thereof to be represented by a judge or clerk of their own selection at any primary election precinct has been filed with the supervisors, then the number of judges and clerks for such primary election precinct shall be equal to the number of such validly-signed certificates which have been filed with the Supervisors of Elections.

If no certificates have been filed, it shall be the duty of the person or persons who may be by the party rules, regulations, customs and usages authorized to appoint such judges and clerks to file the list of the persons so appointed by them, with their occupations, residence, and place of business, with the Board of supervisors of the county or city, as the case may be, not less than six days before the date of such primary election; which list shall be at once hung up by the supervisors in some conspicuous place in their office, and kept there hanging exposed to public view until after the close of the said primary election, and said person so appointed,
