"159. The duties of the primary election inspector shall be to attend at the time and place fixed for the holding of the primary election, and there to receive in Baltimore city from the police department one of the registries of each election precinct included within the primary election precinct or district of which he is inspector, and in the counties to receive from the sheriff a copy of the primary election poll list for each of such election precincts included within the primary election precinct or district of which he is inspector. He shall check upon such registry or poll list, as the case may be, the name of every person who shall vote at such primary election, and no person whose name is not on such registry in the city of Baltimore, or on such poll list in the counties, shall be entitled to vote; but nothing herein shall authorize the said inspector to determine any other question concerning the right of any person to vote at such primary election than whether the name of that person applying to vote is or is not upon such registry or poll list, and if upon such registry, whether there is recorded upon such registry the fact that the person giving the name of the applicant to vote is recorded on such registry as affiliated with the political party whose primary election it is. The said inspector shall have all the powers conferred on a judge of election by section 55 of this Article. The said inspector shall be entitled to take such position in the polling room as he may see fit, and to inspect and examine all ballots, books and papers used at or in connection with the said election. At the close of the polls he shall remain on duty until the count of the ballots
