

in some newspaper published in Baltimore County; and the incorporators named in this Act, or a majority of them, shall have power to open books for subscriptions to said stock at such times and places as they may deem expedient, and may re-open the same from time to time, and when not less than one hundred shares of said capital stock has been subscribed, and when one dollar shall have been paid in on each share so subscribed, the stockholders may organize said corporation, and may elect seven directors to serve until the ensuing annual election, and until their successors shall have been duly elected and qualified; and the directors so elected may choose from their number a president, a vice-president and such other officers of said corporation as they may think necessary to serve until the ensuing general election, and the directors so elected shall have and they are hereby authorized to exercise in the name and behalf of said corporation all the rights and powers and privileges intended to be given hereby to said corporation. The residue of the subscriptions to said shares of stock shall be paid in such installments and at such times as may be required by the president and directors of said company, and if any subscriber shall fail or neglect to pay any installment or part of said subscription thus demanded or required for the space of thirty days after the time when the same shall be payable, the shares of stock on which the said payment is demanded shall be forfeited to the company, and may be sold by said president and directors for the benefit of the company; provided, they may remit any such forfeiture on such terms as they shall deem proper.

May elect
directors,
president, etc.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the affairs of the corporation hereby created from and after the first annual election be managed by a board of directors, consisting of seven stockholders of the said company, who shall be chosen annually by the stockholders of said company to serve for one year, and until their successors are elected; and the directors shall annually choose from their own number at their first meeting after their election a president and vice-president, and shall also appoint a secretary and treasurer, and such other officers of the company as they shall deem necessary. Should a vacancy occur at any time in the directory or in any other office of the company, the directors shall have power to fill the the same vacancy until the next general meeting of the stockholders; and the directors shall have full power to appoint all agents and servants of the corporation, and to fix their compensation and term of service; and the principal office of the corporation shall be in Baltimore County.

Management
of said
corporation