

LAWS OF MARYLAND.

sub-division "Procedure-Indictments," to be known as Section 291 C, and to read as follows:

Indictment for violations of ordinances. 291 C. In every indictment for the violation of any ordinance of any incorporated city or town of this State, it shall not be necessary to set forth a copy of the said ordinance, or any particular section thereof; but every such indictment shall be sufficient if it recites the number of the ordinance alleged to have been violated, with the date of its passage, or if the ordinance has been embraced in a codification, if it refers to the number of the article and section of such codification containing such ordinance, and conforms to the rules of law governing the framing of indictments for violation of Acts of the General Assembly of this State, and concludes "Against the form of the ordinance in such case made and provided, and against the peace, government and dignity of the State."

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That this Act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Approved March 29, 1900.

CHAPTER 132.

AN ACT authorizing the County Commissioners of Washington County to contract with the County Commissioners of Allegany County in regard to a change to be made in the "Stottlemeyer Road."

Stottlemeyer Road. WHEREAS, The maintenance of certain bridges over a public road in Hancock District of Washington County, connecting with a similar road in Allegany County, and commonly called the "Stottlemeyer road," is the cause of great expense to the County Commissioners of Washington County, by reason of frequent destruction of such bridges by mountain torrents; and whereas, the County Commissioners of Allegany County have proposed to change the location of said road within the limits of Allegany County so as to secure a convenient highway to persons using said Stottlemeyer road, and to render unnecessary the use of said Stottlemeyer road within the limits of Washington County, and thus relieve the County Commissioners of Washington County from the expense of maintaining the bridges upon said road; and whereas, the County Commissioners of Allegany County have agreed to make said change of location on condition of the County Commissioners of Washington County agreeing to
