

against the same; but the ordinance need not be set out in full and at length therein, so when the Commissioners enter into a contract with other parties a proper entry showing the title and general character shall appear in the minute book, and all Acts of the Board shall be mentioned therein, but no paper or document which is to be recorded in the ordinance book or in the general record book shall be set out at length in the minute book.

In ordinance books, provided for the purpose, all ordinances shall be set out in full and at length, with their proper number prefixed thereto, and with the date of their respective enactment placed at the end thereof. The ordinances heretofore passed, which still remain in force, shall be revised, and such of them as have become practically obsolete, and such as have been replaced by ordinances covering the same ground may be set aside, while the other shall be examined, revised and amended. All such ordinances as are revised or amended shall be set out and entered in a book furnished therefor. This book shall be designated "The Revised Ordinances of Cambridge, Liber 1," and all the ordinances set forth therein shall be re-enacted by a general ordinance, which shall be recorded in a book, which shall be designated "Ordinances of Cambridge, Liber 2." Other ordinance books shall be added as they are needed, with the same designation as Liber 2, except that the liber shall be rightly numbered, and all ordinances not recorded in revised ordinance book shall be set out and recorded in the other ordinance books as they are enacted, beginning with Liber 2: provided, that all ordinances now existing shall remain in force until the General Revisory Ordinance has been passed, unless sooner specifically repealed.
