

of the police or any detective for the violation of any rule or regulation which they may make and promulgate to said police force, officers of police or any detective; said police force shall consist of one marshal and one deputy marshal of police of the city, and one captain, two lieutenants, two round sergeants, two turnkeys and one clerk at each station-house, which clerk shall receive a salary of eighteen dollars per week, and one lieutenant of the mounted police, who shall have charge of the mounted force, with a rank and pay of a lieutenant of police, and such number of sergeants as said Board of Police in their judgment may deem necessary for each police district in said city, and seven hundred men, which force may be increased at any time, if in the opinion of the board the public peace shall require, to any number and for such period of time as they may think proper by the appointment of special policemen, who shall receive the sum of two dollars and fifty cents per day for their services. The pay of an ordinary policeman shall be eighteen dollars per week, payable semi-monthly; and in case the board shall appoint detective policemen, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to do so, if they shall think fit, to the number of twenty-five; said detectives shall receive the sum of twenty-three dollars per week each, payable semi-monthly, and shall not be allowed to follow any business or profession, but shall devote their time to the discharge of their duties as detectives; the board shall assign one detective to each police district station-house; said detective to be under the direction of the commanding officer of the district, and to operate from said station-house. The officer of police shall be paid semi-monthly, and their pay shall be as follows: The marshal shall receive two thousand five hundred dollars per annum; the deputy marshal shall receive two thousand dollars per annum; each captain shall receive thirty dollars per week; each lieutenant, twenty-five dollars per week; each round sergeant, twenty-three dollars per week; each sergeant, twenty dollars per week, and each turnkey, eighteen dollars per week; the pay herein provided for police officers, policemen and detectives shall continue in force until a change shall be made by law. They are are authorized and empowered to appoint thirty-five additional officers, who shall be known as probation officers, who shall hold their places without a commission until vacancies shall occur in the regular force. The pay of said officers as appointed as aforesaid shall be twelve dollars per week, to be paid at the same time in the same manner as the other officers of said police force are paid; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be con-

What force shall consist of.

Special policemen and pay.

Detective policemen and pay.

Compensation of Marshal and other officers of police.

Additional officers. Compensation.