Which was read

Mr. MORGAN asked, why members of the legislature should have copies given them? They certainly had no claim to any.

Mr. BLAKISTONE moved to amend the order by striking out before the words “one copy,” and substituting in lieu thereof, “two copies.”

Mr. B. said:

That when this proposition was originally adopted, the understanding was, that each member of the Convention should be entitled to three copies, and now it seemed they were to have but one. If any body was to go without copies, let it not be members of this Convention, who had a prior claim to other persons.
