So the question upon its adoption was decided in the negative.

On motion of Mr. Stirling,

The 23d Article was informally passed over.

Mr. Stirling submitted the following amendment:

Article 26, strike out all after the word "that," in the first line, and insert: "No conviction shall work corruption of blood, nor shall there be any forfeiture of the estate of any person for any crime except treason, and then only on conviction."

Mr. Clarke submitted the following amendment to the amendment:

Add the words "which forfeiture of estate shall only continue during the life of the person convicted."

The Convention adjourned.
