

1 1930.

2 Now, our Constitution does in its preamble
3 recognize that all political power originates in the 4 people, and that all government is instituted to secure
5 their right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

6 Now, Delegate Pullen just stole by next sentence.
7 There is no freedom without economic freedom. There is no
8 liberty without economic freedom, and there is no life,
9 real life, without economic security. So having recognized 10 in our Constitution that political power originates in 11 the people and that all government is instituted to 12 secure these rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of 13 happiness, I want you also to recognize the same political 14 power and the same government has to work to secure that 15 economic freedom that is necessary for any other, before 16 any other can be secured, and don't ever forget that 17 socialism, that we just don't want to mention, but we 18 do have parts of, is for the rich and free enterprise
19 as much as it is for the poor.

20 DELEGATE JAMES: Anyone wish to speak for the 21 amendment?
