

1 these statistics mean too much, but for those who are
2 impressed by antiquity, 1684, to 1764 in his verse called
3 "The Honest Jury", says "For 12 honest men have decided
4 the cause, who are the judges alike of the fact and the 5 law."

6 Walpole, who lived at the same time, said "I
7 would rather face another man's word than support Poultney's
8 tongue."

9 Would that I had supported his tongue.

10 DELEGATE JAMES: Delegate Murray, your time has 11 expired, but you may complete the sentence or two in 12 your statement.

13 DELEGATE CHURCHILL MURRAY: May I rise again,
14 because it would take four or five minutes to put this in --

15 DELEGATE JAMES: Your time has expired.

16 DELEGATE CHURCHILL MURRAY: There is no advantage
17 in going on unless I can present it as an entire idea.

18 A DELEGATE: May I yield my time, please?

19 DELEGATE JAMES: If there is unanimous consent,
20 will extend you -- how much more time will you require?

21 DELEGATE CHURCHILL MURRAY: About three minutes.
