

1 wording of the law, but with regard to changing times.

2 DELEGATE JAMES: You have 30 seconds, Delegate
3 Murray.

4 DELEGATE E. C. MURRAY: Thank you.

5 Can you imagine our Supreme Court today render-
6 ing the same decisions on the same wording as did Chief
7 Judge Carney, who sits with his back to us to avoid
8 embarrassment, I am told?

9 Thank you very much, and fellow delegates,
10 thank you very much for allowing me the additional time.

11 I recognize that this does violence to the 12 specific tenets of many, many learned jurists but I submit
13 that if you take this out, you will be taking something
14 away from the citizens of Maryland.

15 DELEGATE JAMES: The Chair recognizes in the 16 gallery H. Walker Lewis, the author of The Life of Roger
17 B. Tawney. He might take offense at that remark.

18 Is there anyone who wishes to speak for the 19 amendment?

20 Delegate Byrnes?
