

1 THE CHAIRMAN: State the sentence so that there
2 will be no misunderstanding.

3 DELEGATE BAMBERGER: To remove the sentence which 4 begins, on line 12, "All other criminal," and remove lines
5 13, 14, and 15.

6 THE CHAIRMAN: Delegate Scanlan.

7 DELEGATE SCANLAN: Delegate Bamberger, you know
8 my feelings on this general subject. You can remove with 9 my hearty approval.

10 THE CHAIRMAN: Delegate Henderson?

11 DELEGATE HENDERSON: I am just a little doubtful
12 about removing it. It seems to me that having dealt 13 with the cases punishable by life imprisonment it was 14 quite appropriate to provide that these others be covered,
15 either by rule or by the General Assembly.

16 It is quite inconceivable to me that either the 17 law or the rule of the court could take away from any accused 18 the right to a fair trial, and therefore that those two would 19 have to be read together.

20 In other words, it certainly would be the limi-
21 tation, the minimum that the rules or the law could provide
