

1 the shoe on the wrong foot. It seems to me amendment
2 24 will require the legislature to act by law to deny the 3 right to know in certain instances. It will put the 4 legislature under intense pressure because what they will 5 have to do is to act affirmatively to deny the right
6 to know in certain instances.

7 I don't think that kind of pressure ought to be 8 put on the legislature. I think the proper thing to do 9 is to expect the legislature to act affirmatively to 10 grant the right to know in those instances where it is 11 proper.

12 I urge you to support amendment 24-A.

13 THE CHAIRMAN: The time for debate having 14 expired, the question will first arise on the adoption
15 of amendment 24-A as a substitute for amendment 24.

16 The Chair will then thereafter submit to you
17 either amendment 24, or amendment 24-A, if it has been 18 substituted for 24, for final action.

19 In either event, there will be two votes.

20 The Clerk will ring the quorum bell.

21 The question arises upon the adoption of
