

1 of all the privileges conferred upon him by the laws of 2 his country.

3 This provision is going to be, as Delegate 4 Adkins said here on something else the other day, the 5 holding out to the people of the promise of giant quart size
6 that the General Assembly cannot put into effect, really.
7 The General Assembly can do everything that it needs to do
8 without this provision.

9 Delegate Freedlander, in her memorandum has 10 well pointed out the fact that the General Assembly has 11 already acted in this field, really it accomplishes nothing 12 other than to hold out hope that cannot be fully fulfilled.

13 THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Bennett.

14 DELEGATE BENNETT: Mr. President, Vice President
15 Nixon, a gentleman whom I don't often quote, has said that 16 there are two wars that the American people face, one in 17 Vietnam, and one here.

18 Every survey that has been made shows the 19 validity of this statement. Opinion Research Corporation, 20 may I say Delegate Taylor, has recently studied this 21 matter, and they have shown that the riots were generated less by denial of political rights than it was motivated
