bond to secure the honesty or to secure the funds that one must administer, I should think it ought to go out.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Rybczynski, would it be fair to say, in the light of your previous explanation, that the committee intends the words "appropriate bond" to mean a fidelity bond?

DELEGATE RYBCZYNSKI: No, it goes even further than that. There are some officials, such as a sheriff, who is subject to performing his duties accurately. For instance, if he is given an attachment and fails to attach properly or on time he is subject to suit, and you wouldn't want to put a person in a position such as that where he could do millions of dollars worth of damage a year and have nothing to back him up.

THE PRESIDENT: You are quite right.

Delegate Koger.

DELEGATE KOGER: Ladies and gentlemen, I am very sorry, but I don't exactly agree with Delegate White, and I want to give you just a little background on it. Most public officials carry bonds in all the states. I carry a bond as an insurance broker, and I am sure Mr.
