

1 Assembly does have the power over the municipalities. The 2 Constitution says that the municipalities shall retain all 3 their existing powers. One of the existing powers is the 4 power to amend their constitution. The power to amend their 5 Constitution -- I am sorry, the power to amend their charter
6 is contained in Article 23A as a procedure, 11E is the 7 authority. It is simply a transitional provision. It is a
8 piece of legislation. If the Legislature doesn't like it,
9 they can repeal it.

10 THE CHAIRMAN: Further questions. Delegate
11 Miller?

12 DELEGATE B. MILLER: No, I think I would like to 13 comment at some point.

14 THE CHAIRMAN: Very well. You may do so now.

15 DELEGATE B. MILLER: I have some hesitation
16 about a Schedule of Legislation that will get so long and 17 so cumbersome that the General Assembly will feel that this 18 is not truly a constitution or a convention session but 19 extra session of the General Assembly, and I think that when 20 we have clearly delineated in this Constitution what it is 21 we expect from the General Assembly, that we ought to leave
