

1 appportionment, appropriations, taxation, et cetera, are
2 not laws that are subject to referendum at any time.

3 THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Lord.

4 DELEGATE LORD: Mr. President, I have a further
5 question of Chairman Koss.

6 THE PRESIDENT: Very well. State the question.

7 DELEGATE LORD: Chairman Koss, it is my
8 understanding that this section was written so as to allow
9 local referenda, particularly for the public local laws
10 or their successors, which are the exceptions in Section
11 3.23. Is that correct?

12 THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Koss.

13 DELEGATE KOSS: That is correct.

14 THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Lord.

15 DELEGATE LORD: Well, if that is the case, I
16 am a little puzzled as to why the section is not tied
17 back to those exceptions rather than, say, a law applicable
18 in only one county, because it seems to me that you can
19 very well have such a public local law that may be applic-
20 able in an area and not just in one county. I would
21 assume that you would intend such a law to be petitioned
