

1 each card you will find an American hero -- and inciden-
2 tally, this game was played by the Kennedy children
3 in the White House and through Mrs. Roosevelt, 37,000
4 were in schools; and also by Earl Koger, "A Negro His-5 tory," and also a story by Earl Koger. This is the story
6 of a little boy who used to stand out on the lawn. His 7 name is Jocko Graves. He was a hero in the war at Tren-
8 ton. He was first recognized by George Washington who 9 erected a statute to him on his lawn when George Washing-
10 ton retired.

11 Thank you. (Applause.)

12 I should like to present to you "Negro Baptists
13 of Maryland," "The Maryland Negro in Our Wars," a 14 game called "Negro Heroes," where you have the pictures
15 of all of the -- you play it somewhat like "Old Maid."
16 "The Negro in the Making of America" by Dr. Quarles;
17 "The Legend of Jocko," by Earl Koger; "Dr. Harvy Johnson,"
18 by A. Brisco Koger, who is one of our most outstanding 19 leaders; "The Maryland Negro" and "The Negro Lawyer in 20 Maryland," by A. Briscoe Koger; and "Negro History Coloring
21 Book," by Earl Koger, Sr."
