

1 to present them to you, announce their names, and you can
2 indicate your approbation by applause.

3 Our parliamentarian, who has kept the ship of
4 the Convention on an even course, David Hattrick. (Applause.)

5 Will you remain standing, please?

6 Our Sergeant at Arms, Dick Rothenburg, who was 7 picked initially partly because of his size, but
8 he has shown so many other attributes that he has served
9 in numerous other capacities. (Applause.)

10 Our reading clerk, Jim Quillen. (Applause.)

11 And our journal clerk, Oden Bowie. (Applause.)

12 I would also at this moment extend our appre-
13 ciation to Milton Dennis, whom all of us learned to appre-
14 ciate very very much. He is doing nicely. He 15 has been operated on, as all of you know. He is in the 16 hospital at the Naval Academy. (Applause.)

17 Now, the others will have to come into the cham-
18 ber.

19 First, the Office of the Secretary: Our Secre-
20 tary, Mr. Robert J. Martineau. (Applause.)

21 I would like you to come forward to the well
