

1 We need to go down to our committee room, be-
2 cause we are on the list of those who are to have movies
3 of us in action.

4 THE PRESIDENT: Will you please make certain
5 that in the movie appear all the reference works that you
6 have been using? There are books on commas, books on semi-7 colons, books on synonyms, and many others.

8 Delegate Taylor.

9 DELEGATE TAYLOR: Mr. President, this may 10 have come to me a little late, but I have on my desk a 11 little note that says, "Some people don't have much to 12 say, but you have to listen so long to find it out."

13 I felt a little badly until I turned it over 14 and it said, "You are quite an orator." Then I began
15 to feel a little better.

16 Then it went on to say: "Oratory is the art
17 of making loud noises from the mouth sound like important
18 messages from the brain."

19 All of us have heard about a lady here --
20 if we haven't spoken of her, we have thought about her.
21 I had occasion the other night to talk to her. She told
