

1 Carroll County, and the Honorable J. Frank Raley, Jr.,
2 Delegate from Saint Mary's County, escorted the Sergeant
3 at Arms, who carried the duplicate original mace, to the 4 rostrum.)

5 (The delegates arose and applauded.)

6 DELEGATE CLARKE: Honorary Vice President Tawes,
7 Vice President James Clark, Vice President William James,
8 and ladies and gentlemen of this Convention, honored guests
9 and friends:

10 The opportunity that has been afforded me to 11 make this presentation as a part of the final session of 12 the Annapolis Achievement is truly the greatest honor of 13 my lifetime.

14 The base of the mace is a silver collar.
15 Inscribed on the collar are the following words: "Presented
16 to H. Vernon Eney, President of the Constitutional Con-17 vention of 1967, by the delegates and officers of the 18 Convention with their respect and affection."

19 Inscribed thereon are the names of the delegates,
20 the officers, and the chief of pages.

21 Mr. President, accept this mace with the
