2 business organizations and the running of government and 3 that among those many differences is the concept that in 4 the running of government the concern is what is best for 5 the people and not in the making of money and votes
6 cast by the people and not by stock. Thank you.

7 THE CHAIRMAN: Any delegate desire to speak in 8 favor of the amendment? Delegate Winslow?

9 DELEGATE WINSLOW: Mr. Chairman, I rise with 10 some trepidation for I am one of those political scientists
11 that some delegates here distrust. Forty years ago, before 12 most of the people in this assembly were appreciative that 13 there was such a thing as a bicameral legislature, I spent 14 some time in this building making a study of the system
15 of legislation and its procedure.

16 Mr. Scanlan, Delegate Scanlan, has suggested
17 that what we ought to do is not live by theory but live by ex-
18 perience. I accept that. Forty years ago I came to the conclu-
19 sion that the General Assembly of Maryland was not doing 20 an effective job. I made a suggestion at that time that 21 what we ought to do was to go to a unicameral system.
