

1 added, was prompted by a letter from Carl Everstine,
2 the Department of Legislative Reference, who said if he 3 used the phrase, "at all times", that he was fearful that 4 on a New Year's Eve, while he was engaged in lighthearted
5 frivolity at some party, that a taxpayer of the State
6 might call upon him and say, "I would like to take a look 7 at the proceedings, the Journal of the Proceedings", and 8 he did not feel that he wanted to be interrupted in his 9 New Year's Eve merriment. Consequently we felt it was 10 proper to insert the word, "reasonable", assuming, of 11 course, that the New Year's Eve, after the close of busi-
12 ness was not reasonable.

13 The other change was the insertion of the word,
14 "current", a current daily journal.

15 The Committee on the Legislative Branch met
16 yesterday morning at an early hour and has given approval 17 to the insertion of the phrase, which shall be open to 18 public inspection at all reasonable times.
