

1 add the others; yes, it does go beyond it."

2 Delegate Child asked: "Now, Mr. Rauh, we're
3 only talking here as delegates to a State Constitution.
4 And when we speak of governmental action, we speak of 5 state governmental action. Now, with that explanation,
6 do you agree or not, that we should follow this recommen-
7 dation?"

8 He answered: "Well, I guess I'd have to say I
9 don't because I think if you were just to take Section
10 1.04 in its present language, it will take the Supreme 11 Court of Maryland," he means the Court of Appeals, "a 12 dozen decisions and, if my life depended on it, I don't 13 know whether they would say a licensee could discriminate
14 or couldn't under section 1.04 as it is at the present
15 time. I simply don't know how those words would be inter-
16 preted."

17 In conclusion, I would like to quote from the 18 Cornell Law Quarterly, in a decision on State v. Brown, 19 and it said: "All state legislative and judicial action 20 granting or sanctioning private rights as against the 21 14th Amendment guarantees must not be made the springboard
