

THE PRESIDENT: Delighted to have them present.

The Chair recognizes Delegate Johnson for the purpose of making an announcement.

DELEGATE JOHNSON: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I rise to a point of personal privilege. Despite the devastating defeat of the Minority Report of the Judicial Branch Committee last week, I am proud to say at least one of our members stayed in there and kept on pitching over the long weekend we just enjoyed.

I am very pleased to have the honor to announce the single victory of Delegate Susan Kahl, who moved one step closer to the envied position of housewife, by recently becoming engaged to be married to Mr. Thomas Phoebus of the Baltimore Orioles, the 1967 American League Rookie Pitcher of the Year.

I am certain that you will be happy to join me in wishing this fine couple every happiness.

(Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Johnson.

DELEGATE JOHNSON: Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen, I feel that we have not lost a delegate but gained a twenty-game winner.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair wishes to recognize the presence of 154 students from Kensington Junior High School in Montgomery County. Delighted to have them with us also.

(Applause.)

The Chair recognizes Delegate Burdette for the purpose of making an announcement.

DELEGATE BURDETTE: Mr. President, under the heading of personal privilege, I should like to call the attention to the Convention to the birthday today of a distinguished delegate from Baltimore County, Dr. Clinton I. Winslow who has been for forty years an eminent professor in this state. He is an alumnus, among other schools, of the University of Nebraska.

When I was a student there more than thirty years ago, his name was already legendary for scholarship and for integrity.

I have been studying his works and his words for a third of a century, and I should like to have the privilege, Mr. President, of asking the Convention to join on this birthday in tribute to Dr. Winslow's long and continuing service to our state and country.

(Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: For what purpose does Delegate Bard rise?

DELEGATE BARD: I would like to rise on the question of personal privilege, Mr. Chairman.

THE PRESIDENT: State your privilege.

DELEGATE BARD: First, I would like to second the statement with regard to Dr. Winslow and secondly, I would like to announce the presence of Mrs. Bard, who is here today, because we had the privilege of celebrating belatedly our wedding anniversary. We could not celebrate it on time because of the Convention. She is present today.

(Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes Delegate Powers, Chairman of the Committee on Calendar and Agenda.

DELEGATE POWERS: Mr. President, I move that today's calendar be amended so as to include the resumption of consideration of Committee Recommendation GP-4, Consumer Protection, and as amended I move the adoption of today's calendar.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there a second?

(Whereupon, the motion was duly seconded.)

THE PRESIDENT: All those in favor signify by saying Aye; contrary, No. The Ayes have it. It is so ordered. The calendar is adopted.

Are there any reports of other standing committees?

(There was no response.)

THE PRESIDENT: Are there any motions or resolutions?

(There was no response.)

THE PRESIDENT: There has been distributed today a memorandum to accompany Delegate Proposal No. 433 by Delegate Finch.

The Chair recognizes Delegate Powers.

DELEGATE POWERS: Mr. President, I move the Convention resolve itself into
