

(Laughter.)

THE CHAIRMAN: There being 101 votes—Delegate Gill.

DELEGATE GILL: My vote did not register.

THE CHAIRMAN: Just a second, I will see if it did.

READING CLERK: It did not.

THE CHAIRMAN: Please state your vote orally in the microphone.

DELEGATE GILL: For the amendment.

THE CHAIRMAN: I am sorry, I did not hear you.

DELEGATE GILL: Yes, for the amendment.

THE CHAIRMAN: The vote is Aye.

There being 102 votes in favor of the amendment and two against, the motion is carried and the amendment is adopted.

The Chair has no further amendments or is aware of no further amendments to any section prior to section 3.16.

Are there any amendments or sections prior to section 3.16?

(There was no response.)

The Chair hears none.

The Chair recognizes Delegate Powers.

DELEGATE POWERS: Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee of the Whole rise and report that it has not yet concluded its consideration of Committee Recommendation LB-2.

(The motion was duly seconded.)

THE CHAIRMAN: All in favor signify by saying Aye; contrary, No. The Ayes have it. It is so ordered.

(Whereupon, at 10:33 P.M., the Committee of the Whole rose, and the Convention reconvened.)

(The mace was replaced by the Sergeant-at-Arms.)

PLENARY SESSION

DECEMBER 1, 1967—10:33 P.M.

PRESIDENT H. VERNON ENEY,
PRESIDING

THE PRESIDENT: The Convention will please come to order.

On behalf of the Committee of the Whole, the Chair reports that it has under consideration LB-2, and that it still has it under consideration, and that it desires leave to sit again.

The Chair has an announcement to make which you may find of interest. It indicates that there is something contagious about the work of this Convention.

One blond young man that you have seen walking about the floor today serving as a page had no idea that he would do so when he arrived in Annapolis this morning. He came to visit the Naval Academy. He had some idea of preparing to take some tests with the hope of entering the Academy.

When he finished his inquiries, he was told a Convention was in session. He came over to look, he saw, he observed, he was conquered and was put to work.

I think we owe a round of applause to Eric Johnson of Phoenix, Arizona.

(Applause.)

Are there any announcements by committee chairmen?

Delegate Morgan.

DELEGATE MORGAN: I just again wanted to say the Committee on the Executive Branch will meet tomorrow morning at 9:00 A.M. to consider the attorney general amendment.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Weidemyer.

DELEGATE WEIDEMEYER: Mr. President and delegates of the Convention, I thought I detected when Delegate Morgan left the rostrum this morning a little air of relief, but during the afternoon I thought his countenance changed to one of extreme sadness and I know we have rules, but if that sad look keeps on for the next few days, possibly the Chair could consider amendment of the rules whereby we could reconsider EB-1 and give him two or three more days of practice in talking to us.

I hope he cheers up but if he keeps on that sad look, I hope something can be done.

THE PRESIDENT: Are there any other announcements?

Delegate Lord.

DELEGATE LORD: Mr. Chairman, another substitute page who has done an excellent job here today is Ellen Linton, the daughter of Sam Linton. I would like to
