

THE PRESIDENT: The previous question having been called for, the question arises on the motion to amend Resolution No. 18 by adding after the word "further" in line 4 a paragraph reading as follows. "Resolved that delegates who fail to attend a minimum of four meetings weekly shall be denied the right to vote." A vote Aye is a vote in favor of the amendment, a vote No is a vote against the amendment.

DELEGATE BURDETTE: Point of order, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Burdette.

DELEGATE BURDETTE: Mr. President, is not the question now on the previous question?

THE PRESIDENT: Indeed you are quite correct. The Parliamentarian was just trying to get my ear to call my attention to that omission.

The question arises on the motion of the previous question. All those in favor, signify by saying Aye; contrary, No. The Ayes have it. It is so ordered.

The question now arises on the motion to amend Resolution No. 18 by adding after the word further in line 4 on page 2 a paragraph "resolved that delegates who fail to attend a minimum of four meetings weekly shall be denied the right to vote." A vote Aye is a vote in favor of the amendment, a vote No is a vote against the amendment.

All those in favor, signify by saying Aye; contrary, No. The Noes have it. The motion is lost.

The question now arises on Resolution No. 18. Delegate Kirkland, I believe you have already spoken on the resolution.

DELEGATE KIRKLAND: I want to correct this thing because there are many typing processes and something has been left out. I would like to correct the resolution, if I may.

THE PRESIDENT: In the absence of objection, I suppose the proper way to do it is by amendment, unless you can state it, if it is a simple typographical error.

DELEGATE KIRKLAND: They left out the word "substantive" before committee in line 29. Also in line 1 on the second page, "substantive" before committees, and line 2 after the word one, "substantive."

THE PRESIDENT: I think that is more than merely typographical and should be by motion. The Chair recognizes you to make the motion to amend.

DELEGATE KIRKLAND: I move we amend this resolution as just described.

(The motion was duly seconded.)

THE PRESIDENT: A motion is to amend the resolution by inserting the word "substantive" after the numeral 1 and before the word "committee" in line 29 on page 1, before the word "committees" in line 1 on page 2, and before the word "committee" in line 2 on page 2. Is that the motion? Delegate Storm, do you rise to discuss the motion to amend?

DELEGATE STORM: Yes, and I would like to ask the mover if he would accept an amendment, a housekeeping amendment, that after inserting "substantive" at those three places, continue on to line 3 on the second page, put a period after vote and strike out "and be it further."

THE PRESIDENT: Do you include that in your motion? Is there any further discussion of the motion to amend? Delegate Chabot?

DELEGATE CHABOT: I would like to ask a question of the maker of the motion. The logic of the motion seems to depend upon people having to vote at different points with regard to the final constitution. Since the work of the Committee on Style certainly will affect the outcome of the constitution, and I believe we have already seen and are fighting now about the effect that the work of the Committee on Rules will have on the final Constitution, and we will see the same shortly with regard to the Committee on Calendar, could the maker of the motion give an explanation as to why it would be permissible for delegates to have votes on those committees as well as substantive committees?

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Kirkland, do you desire to answer the question?

DELEGATE KIRKLAND: I doubt it, Delegate Chabot. I am wondering why the question again. I think this thing is obvious to you. I am relating only to the eight substantive committees. This to me is where the meat and the heart of this Convention is being made and work is being done. I do not think it is being made in the Rules Committee or in the Style Committee or Calendar and Agenda or Public Information. This is just my thought. I am sorry if that answer does not satisfy you.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any further discussion on the motion to amend? Are you ready for the question?
