

of the University of Baltimore. I was going to suggest that members of the Convention who live near colleges or local libraries do the same thing. The librarians tell me that they really will be valuable.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Frank Robey.

DELEGATE ROBEY: I call your attention to page 2 of the resolution, lines 28 and 29. Again, following Delegate Burdette's questioning, this is for the legislative history.

I am not sure that there is not the need to add an additional phrase in line 29. I call your attention to that phrase which says "a post-convention Committee on Public Information which shall formulate ideas and advise with regard to an impartial public information program".

When will the Committee be appointed? Who will they be advising? The President alone? Or the post-convention staff or will they be advising the delegates who were members of the Convention, or all of these people?

DELEGATE DULANY: The Committee will be advising all of these people. The Committee will be conducting a program and will advise the staff that is employed to conduct a public information program. I think that each delegate is charged with the responsibility of informing this State as well as the official committee.

I think the Committee will advise the delegates here who are not members of the Committee, who are not members of any Committee, but who are actually speaking and endeavoring to inform their constituents of the activities of this Convention. I think this Committee will advise them. I think the Committee will be a very important tool to the president.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Robey.

DELEGATE ROBEY: For the sake of the legislative history of this resolution, I think it should be pointed out very specifically at this time that the Committee's function will be solely one of advisory capacity. They will not direct. Is this true?

DELEGATE DULANY: The Committee will formulate and advise. We must have someone we can put the finger on who is directing the program. The resolution provides that the President shall, or in his absence or inability, the Vice-President. The Committee will formulate and advise with regard to the program.

THE PRESIDENT: Are there any further questions?

Delegate Grant.

DELEGATE GRANT: Delegate Dulany, it is my understanding that the Constitutional Commission is also still in existence, and I presume that any work that your group would do and the Convention will do would be coordinated and combined with whatever work they are still working on?

DELEGATE DULANY: I think that will be true. We will be working with the Commission. The legislature and the two aspects of the post-convention activities, the public information program and the aspect of winding up the affairs of this Convention. I think it will all be combined so you cannot put your finger on one employee doing one job. All these things are inter-related.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate James.

DELEGATE JAMES: Mr. President, I do not seem to have a copy of Resolution 26.

DELEGATE DULANY: Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: Will the pages please get a copy of Resolution 26.

DELEGATE JAMES: I would like to know whether this resolution would authorize the President to possibly join with the General Assembly in conducting necessary research. I believe you said that and I want to make sure that that is correct.

DELEGATE DULANY: That is our intention. We do not have it spelled out specifically. It was our intention that the Committee and the President would be working in connection with the General Assembly. Certainly the staff that would be appointed by this Convention or by the President of this Convention would be working for the staff of the legislature.

THE PRESIDENT: Any further discussion.

Are you ready for the question?

(Call for the question.)

The Clerk will ring the quorum bell.

The question arises on the adoption of Resolution No. 26. A vote Aye is a vote in favor of the resolution. A vote No is a vote against.

Cast your votes.

Has every delegate voted?
