Mr. Robins, from the committee, brings in and delivers to the speaker the following report; THE committee to whom was referred the petition of William Handy, of Worcester county, report, that they have taken the same into consideration, and are of opinion, from the facts disclosed to your committee, that the petitioner has been grossly injured in his person and property by some of the citizens of Pennsylvania, but inasmuch as the federal judicatures are open to the citizens of the United States indiscriminately, and competent to redress all the injuries he may have sustained, your committee conceive it would be improper for the legislature to interfere and become a party on behalf of the petitioner; but your committee submit the propriety of letting the said petitioner have a sum of money on loan, with sufficient surety, to institute and carry on the necessary suits, for the redressing such injuries as your committee are confident the petitioner has received. All which is submitted to the house.

Which was read.

By order,

Z. HUGHES, clk.

Mr. Ridout, from the committee, brings in and delivers to the speaker the following report: THE committee of grievances and courts of justice, to whom was referred the petition of Benjamin Griffith, of Baltimore county, praying to be relieved from a decree obtained against him in the chancery court of this state at the instance of Josias Pennington, report, that they have taken the same under consideration, and are of opinion that any interposition of the legislature, as to the subject of the said petition, would be improper, because the present case has been acted upon by the judiciary department in this state, agreeably to the constitution and form of government, and inasmuch as no mal-practice or corruption is alleged by the petitioner against the said judiciary department who passed the decree complained of, or any evidence shewn to your committee to induce an opinion that the petitioner has not had justice rendered him agreeably to the law of the land; your committee therefore think that the petitioner's case should be left to the decision of the judiciary departments of this state. All which is submitted to the house.

By order,

J. W. KING, clk.

Which was read the first and second time and concurred with.
