ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 1, 1865.

W. R. COLE, Esq.,

Dear Sir:—I received the pamphlet on Maryland, which you kindly sent to me.

Parties interested in the subject and contemplating removing to some more Southern State, have made inquiries of me respecting Maryland, and one or two have requested me to obtain a copy of the pamphlet for them.

If you will send me two or three copies I will hand them to parties interested in the subject, and seeking information.

Respectfully yours,
SEYMOUR G. WILCOX.

W. R. COLE, Esq.

Dear Sir,—Seeing in the N. Y. Tribune that by application to you a paper or book, setting forth the advantages of emigration to Maryland, and knowing many who are casting about in their minds, for an eligible place for homes, I write you for the purpose of obtaining one of said books. I know of quite a number of my neighbors—men of small means, but men of sound integrity and industrious habits—most of them mechanics—who talk strong of moving South, but they seem afraid of that wicked prejudice heretofore existing in the Southern mind against Northern people. For my own part, I have no fear on that head myself, and mean as soon as possible, to endeavor to get me a home in the Sunny South—a thing I long ago should have done—but for that dark shadow that so long cast a gloom over both North and South. I am a mechanic (Shoemaker.) I wish to obtain a small farm, if possible not too far from some thriving village—where I can devote part of my time to farming, and part to working at my trade. If you know of such a situation and it will not be too much trouble to you, I will be thankful if you will let me know it. At any rate please send me one at least of your books, and if you wish I will distribute some of them for you.

Yours, &c.,
J. M. BROWN.
