

I have long had a view to going to Maryland to settle, but reasons not here to speak of, have kept me from it but the barrier has been removed and I with score of others are anxious now to make Maryland our home.

I am a poor man unable to buy land where I now reside on account of its high price knowing as I do, that I can buy better land, for less money in Maryland than I can here, and this pamphlet if I understand it by the advertisement in the newspaper will so instruct me, that I will know what part of the State to go to look for land.

You will confer a great favour on me by sending me a pamphlet.

Your obedient servant,
EDWARD H. PANCOAST.

W. R. COLE,

Dear Sir:—Having just been discharged from the army and desiring to settle in some mild climate, I noticed your advertisement, and think that I should like the State of Maryland, having marched through there twice, and camped for several weeks in the State. Please send me a description of soil in different sections of the State, &c.

Yours respectfully,
E. PAINE, Jr.,

W. R. COLE,

Dear Sir:—I have read the notice in the New York Tribune, of the action in the Maryland General Assembly, in reference to the Resources of that State, and that a register or pamphlet was published, giving a different description of the different parts of the State, its productions &c., which would be of interest to those who wish to settle in that State. Please send to my address one of those registers or pamphlets, or
