

more if you choose. There are a number of persons here who intend to settle in Maryland, and several started off last week for that State, and intend to purchase there.

For myself, I wish to purchase a place of but few acres, in the outskirts of some thriving village, with good buildings, different kinds of fruit near churches, Railroad, &c., and should prefer it north of the latitude of Baltimore.

Any information you can give us will be thankfully received, and much appreciated.

Yours truly,

AUGUSTUS DOUD.

Dear Sir:—As there are some families here that wish to emigrate I thought I would send for one of your statements of the inducements for persons to provide a permanent location in your State.

W. R. COLE, ESQ.,

Dear Sir:—I noticed in the column of a ‘Harrisburg Telegraph,’ an advertisement under your signature to parties wishing to purchase farm lands in your State. Now sir, if you send me on several of your pamphlets I will guarantee you purchasers from this valley, (‘Kishacoguillas.’) I am, and feel a deep interest in aiding and assisting in the sale of said lands.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES BAILEY.

ROCHESTER, May 25, 1865.

Sir:—Having for some time been on the look out for some place where I could locate my family where the climate is not so severe as this, I cannot see any State more to my purpose than Maryland. I would, therefore, feel obliged by your sending me the pamphlet mentioned in your article on ‘Homes in Maryland.’

Your earliest reply will much oblige sir,

Yours, very respectfully,

HENRY SAVAGE.
