

A. I was willing to take the oath and answer all the questions but those which the convention in Baltimore prescribed.

What questions were you willing to answer?

A. I do not remember all now—I was willing to answer that I had not aided or assisted the South, I had had no correspondence with the South, harbored no blockade runners, nor seen any, and that I had not harbored any drafted men.

Were you or not informed by the Officers of Registration that you were considered disloyal?

A. They did not say so to me; if they did, I disremember.
To the first interrogatory:

A. No, sir; I don't know that I did for either cause.

2d:

A: No, sir, don't know that I did.

3d:

A. No, sir; neither for nor against it.

4th:

A. Yes, sir, I did; when Richmond surrendered I was glad the war was over, because they had taken enough money from me, without the war going on longer.

5th:

A. I disremember.

The above has been read to me and is correct.

BEACHAMP A. WRIGHT.

Attested to and written by Henry Page, Clerk.

Gillits T. Taylor, a witness produced on behalf of claimant, being duly sworn, answers and says:

To the first interrogatory:

2d:

A. Did apply; no witness, no charge; took the oath; was not registered.
