

tairly shall be registered; I said "certainly," and was registered, and went to the polls and voted for Franklin and the whole of that ticket.

4th. Waived.

Cross-Interrogatory.

Q. You state a conversation with Mr. Connor, in your direct-examination, was that in the presence and hearing of the other two Registers?

A. No, sir; it was not.

Q. Will you on your oath, swear that the conversation you had with Mr. Connor was the cause of your being registered as a qualified voter?

A. I believe it, on my oath.

Q. What reasons have you to believe it?

A. The way he took me off and asked me the question.

Q. Have you not considered yourself and been generally thought to be a loyal man?

A. I can't say that I have always been a Union man.

Q. Have you been in opposition to the government of the United States and the restoration of the Union?

A. I have not been in opposition to the government as to that part, nor to the restoration of the Union.

Re-Direct Interrogatory:

Q. What do you mean by saying you have not been always a Union man?

A. I mean I did not belong to the party called the Union party.

The above has been read to me and is correct.

LITTLETON J. HARRIS.
