

and was the Democratic caucus nominee, again, in 1896, but political complications defeated his election. He was the Democratic candidate for the United States Senate in 1896. He was chairman of committee on education, chairman of committee on militia, chairman of committee on public institutions, on committee on rules, on committee on re-valuation and assessment of the last session.