

which he graduated, after which he took a special course of two years at Prof. Wilmer's Classical School. In 1885 he graduated from the University of Maryland with a degree of LL.B. and in the same year was elected on the Democratic ticket a member of the General Assembly of Maryland. He was re-elected in 1887, at which time he was made Speaker pro tem. In 1901 he and Isaac Lobe Straus, the Attorney General, and Stephen Little, Clerk of the Superior Court of Baltimore, were elected the sole representatives on the Democratic ticket to the Legislature for Baltimore city. In 1907 he was elected a member of the State Senate from the Second Legislative district of Baltimore city, receiving a larger majority than that received by any member of the General Assembly at that election. He was appointed a colonel on the staff of Gov. Elihu E. Jackson and was one of the commissioners named in the Act of 1902 to supervise the building of the new State House, and by his experience materially aided the Commission in suggestions looking to the comfort of the members of the General Assembly. Mr. Campbell is a well and favorably known lawyer of commanding ability and is in receipt of a large and lucrative practice. He is a prominent member of the city and State Bar associations, of the Grand Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, United Singers, Eagles, City Democratic and Apache Democratic clubs, as well as several fraternal and charitable organizations. He has a large circle of friends and acquaintances both in and out of the State; he is looked upon as a brilliant orator and his services have been constantly in demand not only upon the stump in behalf of his party, but is constantly sought after to deliver addresses in many of the principal cities of the Union. He is married and has six children, three boys and three girls.

Baltimore City (Third District)—J. CHARLES LINTHICUM, Democrat—Baltimore.

Mr. Linthicum was born at Linthicum, Anne Arundel county, November 26, 1867, and received his early education in the public schools of that county and of Baltimore city, later entering the State Normal School, from which he graduated in 1886, when he became principal of Braddock School, Frederick county, and later taught school in his native county of Anne Arundel. Returning to Baltimore he took a special course in the Historical and Political Department of the Johns Hopkins University, after which he entered the University of
