

dent. In January, 1906, he became third Vice-President of the American Bonding Company, and subsequently second Vice-President. Shortly after the merger between the Fidelity and Deposit Company and the American Bonding Company in 1913, he became president of the American Bonding Company, which, according to the provisions of the merger, was in liquidation. He was also elected as one of the Vice-Presidents of the Fidelity & Deposit Company of Maryland. These positions he was holding when appointed Secretary of State.

In 1916, he was appointed a member of the Board of Liquor License Commissioners for Baltimore City, by Governor Harrington and was re-appointed two years later. He resigned this position on October 15th, 1919, to become Secretary of State of Maryland, succeeding Thomas W. Simmons, resigned.

Mr. Radcliffe is a member of the Maryland Council of Defense and chairman of the Historical Division of that body. This committee has charge of the collection of data and the preparation of records of activities of Maryland and Maryland men and women during the war. He is Recording Secretary of the Maryland Historical Society, Treasurer of the Maryland Branch of the League to Enforce Peace, and is President of the Alumni Association of Johns Hopkins University.

He married on June 6th, 1906, Miss Mary McKim Marriott, of Baltimore. They have one child, George Marriott, born June 9, 1919.

Attorney-General: ALEXANDER ARMSTRONG (Republican), Hagerstown, Maryland.

Alexander Armstrong was born in Hagerstown, Maryland, on June 28th, 1877. His father was the late Alexander Armstrong for many years a practicing Attorney of Hagerstown, and his mother who is also deceased, was, before her marriage, Miss Elizabeth Key Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bruce Scott, of Hagerstown. Mr. Armstrong attended the public schools of Washington County, graduating from its High School in 1895. He then entered Princeton University, receiving there the degree of A. B. in 1899, and the degree of A. M. in 1900, and was later graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1903 with a degree of LL. B. Mr. Armstrong was admitted to the Bar of Maryland on Janu-