

without amendment, the President shall propound the question: "Shall this Bill, (Report or other proposition,) be engrossed for a third reading?" If decided in the negative, the Bill, &c., shall be rejected; if in the affirmative, it shall be engrossed and read a third time, according to the rules of the Senate.

XXXIV.

No amendment shall be received at the third reading of any Bill, Resolution, Report or other proposition originating in the Senate, unless by consent of two-thirds of the Members present; but it shall at all times be in order before the final passage of any such Bill, Resolution, Report or other proposition, to move its re-commitment; and should such commitment take place, and any amendment be reported by the committee, the said Bill, Resolution, Report, or other proposition, as amended, shall be read, and such reading be considered a second reading; and then the question shall be put, whether it shall be engrossed and read a third time, and if decided in the negative, the Bill, &c., shall be rejected; if in the affirmative, it shall be engrossed and read a third time, according to the rules of the Senate.

XXXV.

Every resolution originating in the Senate or received from the House, shall be read on two several days, with the intermission of one day at least, during which time it shall lie on the table for the perusal of members, unless the Senate, by special order two-thirds of the members present agreeing, dispense with the rule, which order shall be entered on the Journal.

XXXVI.

Any member on motion, or in debate, may call for the reading of any law, Journal, Record, or other public proceedings, which may relate to the subject matter under consideration.

XXXVII.

The special Orders of the Day shall not be called up before _____ unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, unless all ordinary business shall have been previously disposed of; and shall, after that hour, have preference over all ordinary business.

XXXVIII.

No committee shall sit during the sitting of the Senate, without special leave.

XXXIX.

Bills and resolutions from the House, shall be open to amendment on their second reading, and not on their third
