

“After thereading of the proceedings of the preceding day, the following shall be the order of business ;”

Which was read and adopted.

Mr. Henkle moved a reconsideration of the vote on the adoption of the fifth rule;

Determined in the negative.

The sixth rule was then read and adopted.

Mr. Vickers moved a reconsideration of the vote on the adoption of the sixth rule ;

Determined in the affirmative.

Mr. Compton submitted the following as an amendment to the sixth rule :

After the words “third reading,” insert “when in order, the Secretary shall announce the bills ready for a second and third reading, by their title and the orders of the day.”

Determined in the negative.

The President of the Senate submitted the following amendment to the sixth rule :

“Strike out the number of the sixth rule ;”

Determined in the affirmative.

The President of the Senate submitted the following as the sixth rule :

“When the regular order for bills on the second and third reading shall come up, the titles of all such bills shall first be announced seriatim by the clerk, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate ;”

Which was adopted.

Mr. Bowie then submitted the following as a substitute for rule seven :

“The order of the day shall be taken up for consideration at the hour designated, but may be postponed by the action of the Senate for the purpose of considering other matters of legislation before the Senate ;”

The question on the adoption of the substitute,

Was determined in the affirmative.

The eight rule was then read and adopted.

The ninth rule was then read and adopted.

The tenth rule was then read and adopted.

The eleventh rule was then read and adopted.

The twelfth rule was then read and adopted.

The thirteenth rule was then read and adopted.