Answer, There were a good many; I offered to vote; and the Judges said I must take the oath; that it was law; I declined to take it; the Judges and the armed men were all radicals. I can't tell if the armed men intimidated voters, I was not there long enough to judge; I was not there over twenty minutes.

Cross-examined by Mr. Brown.

1st Question. Why did not the Judges let you vote?

Answer. They said I must take the oath, and that it was law; I declined to take it, as I had done so before the Register.

2d Question. How many armed men did you see?

Answer. About fourteen; some had guns, and some had both guns and revolvers; they fired no shots, nor presented their weapons whilst I was at the polls; the armed men did not prevent me from voting, nor any one else that I saw; I was present only twenty minutes.

3d Question. Is it the usual custom for people in District No. 10 to carry arms?

Answer. It is; they had more guns on this occasion than I had usually seen at such places.

4th Question. What side did you take during the war?

Answer. I took the Union and Constitutional side, and did not side with Secessionists or Abolitionists.

5th Question. Why did you not register before September last?

Answer. Because I did not believe it was right to go there and tell on my neighbors and create enemies; when I registered I took the oath and answered questions, but don't know how many or what they were.

FREDERICK P. SAUCER.
