

district at the election on the 6th of November last ; if so, where was the election held and how conducted ?

Answer. I acted as Judge in my district on the sixth of November last. The election was held at Altamont, and passed off very quietly. An application was made to the Commissioners, stating the threats in regard to hostility at the election, and they moved the polls from Summitville to Altamont.

3d Interrogatory. Were any votes refused by the Judges on that day ; if so, name whose, and your reasons for rejection ?

Answer. There were votes refused by the Judges. Patrick Hammil, Henry O. Hammil, Archibald C. Hammil, Henry Hammil, Sr., Alexander Fairall, Richard J. West, George O'Brien and Reasin Turner are the parties whose votes were rejected. There was a list of these names handed to me, challenging their votes ; also, when I was register, there was evidence appeared against Patrick Hammil, Henry Hammil, Sr., and George O'Brian, the notes of which testimony were in my possession. The Constitutional oath was offered them, but they would not take it, and their votes were rejected.

Cross-examined for Contestants.

1st Interrogatory. Who was register in District No. 1 for 1866 ?

Answer. Jonathan H. Wilson signed the list as register.

2d Interrogatory. You did not know any one else to act as register for that district in 1866 ?

Answer. I did not.

3d Interrogatory. Did he not register the aforementioned persons as qualified voters in 1866 ?

Answer. Their names were on the list handed the Judges on the morning of election, by Mr. Wilson, as register.

4th Interrogatory. Did you not say, in the city of Cumberland, previous to the election, that Patrick Hammill should not vote ?

Answer. I have no recollection of having said anything of the kind.

5th Interrogatory. Did you not say, in the city of Cumberland, previous to the election, that Patrick Hammil had said, on a previous occasion, that in less than 30 days the graybacks would be as thick as blackberries in the State of Maryland, and therefore should not vote ?

Answer. I have no recollection of making a remark of the kind, in that way.
