

committee were told that no time could be devoted to the purpose. Such a fact, in the face of the number of hands always employed is but another mark of the deranged machinery of the law now in force, the committee, however, have endeavored to reach the difficulty. Nearly all of the warehouses, more or less require repairing, and it is recommended that a law be passed authorizing the Inspectors at once to have the same attended to. In conclusion, your committee would say that the material prosperity of the State can in no better manner be enhanced than by earnest legislation in behalf of the tobacco interest. The value of a commodity so universally appreciated by all the States of the Union, and destined to attract more of the capital of foreign countries, must commend itself to every fair and candid mind.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

C. C. MAGRUDER, JR.

Chairman of the Committee.
