

them, or such portions of them, or either of them, as in his discretion shall best promote the object of his agency, and deliver lectures in the towns or public places on his line of travel, in which he shall set forth the advantage to capitalists and laborers of settling in the State of Maryland, and with a view to secure large audiences he shall give public notice by hand bill or by advertisement in some one of the newspapers published in the nearest town, at least one week in advance of his purpose to deliver a lecture or lectures on the object of his agency.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That said agent shall keep an accurate and exact account of his traveling expenses, and a separate and exact account of his expenses incurred in publishing notices of his lectures, which together shall not exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, and shall quarterly transmit in duplicate of each, attested by his affidavit, to the Comptroller of the Treasury, who on being satisfied of their accuracy, and that the same included only necessary expenses, shall transmit to the said immigrant agent the amount of said expenses, by draft or by such other method as he shall think safest, addressing the same to such place as said agent shall direct.

Shall keep an account of expenses, &c.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That said immigrant agent shall keep an account in journal form of the duties he performs, and as far as he can judge, of the success of his efforts, and shall transmit the same, or a duplicate thereof, quarterly to the Governor of the State for his inspection.

Required to report to the Governor.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That said immigrant agent shall be and is hereby appointed for two years from the day of the passage of this Act, and shall receive a salary of two thousand dollars per annum, to be paid quarterly, on the warrant of the Comptroller, whose duty it is hereby made to transmit it by draft or otherwise, to such address as such immigrant agent shall direct.

Term of Office.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That this Act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

In force.