Headnotes	Present Constitution	Constitution of 1867	Constitution of 1864
Commissioning of officers during recess.	Sec. 11. In case of any vacancy, during the recess of the Senate, in any office which the Governor has power to fill, he shall appoint some suitable person to said office, whose commission shall continue in force until the end of the next session of the Legislature, or until some other person is appointed to the same office, whichever shall first occur; and the nomination of the person thus appointed, during the recess, or, of some other person in his place, shall be made to the Senate on the first day of the next regular meeting of the Senate.	tion of the person thus ap- pointed, during the recess, or, of some other person in his place, shall be made to	Sec. 14. In case of vacancy, during the recess of the Senate, in any office which the Governor has power to fill, he shall appoint some suitable person to said office, whose commission shall continue in force till the end of the next session of the General Assembly, or till some other person is appointed to the same office, whichever shall first occur, and the nomination of the person thus appointed during the recess, or of some other person in his place, shall be made to the Senate within thirty days after the next meeting of the General Assembly.

1851	1776	1776 Constitution
		Proposed by Act of 1845, chapter 269. Ratified 1846.
•		Sec. 4. From and after the first election of Dele- gates held in pursuance of this Act, the officers to be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, as now pro- vided, shall be biennial in- stead of annual.
Sec. 12. In case of any acancy during the recess of the Senate, in any office which the Governor has ower to fill, he shall apoint some suitable person of said office, whose commission shall continue in force the end of the next session of the Legislature, or all some other person is apointed to the same office, which ever shall first occur, and the nomination of the terson thus appointed during the recess, or of some ther person in his place, hall be made to the Senate within thirty days after the text meeting of the Legislature.	ignations, disqualification or removal out of the State of any of the said commissioners or treasurers, in the recess of the general assembly, the governor, with the advice of the council, may appoint and commission a fit and proper person to such vacant office, to hold the same until the meeting of the	pointment of which no other mode shall have been or may